PRESS RELEASE

Phillips Takes Next Steps in Announcing Sale Dates for New York in June

NEW YORK – 19 MARCH 2020 – Following the recent restructuring of the Spring auction calendar, Phillips announces that its upcoming 20th Century & Contemporary Art sales in New York will be held the week of 22 June 2020, consolidating the New York and London sales into one week of auctions. These sales will be followed by the New York auctions of Jewels, Design, Editions, and Photographs, the dates of which are forthcoming.

The New York auctions will take place on the heels of Phillips' spring season in Hong Kong, which will be hosted, as originally planned, on 31 May-2 June. Also preceding the New York sales are a series of auctions in London in early June, the exact dates for which will be communicated in due course.

Edward Dolman, CEO, and Cheyenne Westphal, Global Chairwoman, jointly said, "As we navigate through these difficult times together, we are taking positive steps in announcing plans for future auctions, namely 20th Century & Contemporary Art in New York. We are hopeful that these sales will bring promises of new beginnings and optimism for the season ahead. Phillips is comprised of people around the globe who are passionate about their work and recognize the impact that art can have in the most trying of times. Our experienced team of industry specialists remains committed to working with the community in the coming weeks and engaging with them over the phone and across our digital platforms."
